

Scientists See Convertiplanes, Helicopter Tugs In Offing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Aircraft which take off and land like helicopters but fly like airplanes are practical and ready for development, leaders in a new field of aviation said today.

Speakers at a "convertible aircraft congress" disclosed here that the hybrid "convertiplane" can make flying cheaper, faster—and much safer.

One of the, Dr. J. A. J. Bennett, an engineer with Hiller Helicopter Corp. of Palo Alto, Calif., also proposed the use of short-haul jet-powered helicopters as aerial tugs.

Bennett said helicopters, already able to carry a load well in excess of their own weight, can be used to pick up airplanes from rooftops or ship decks and launch them, or to catch them as they come in and lower them to tiny landing areas, much as harbor tug-boats bring huge liners into port or lead them out again to sea.

And Gerard P. Herrick, president of Convertiplane Corp. of New York City and builder 20 years ago of the first aircraft to "fly both ways"—like a helicopter and like an airplane—said the true convertiplane "will soon be a reality."

"We know from our own data and experience that with a little encouragement we could in a few months provide the prototype of new kind of all-weather means of transportation and new weapon for the armed services for conditions not met by available aircraft," Herrick said in a prepared address.

"Later an important safe civilian ship will follow which, through mass production, will get the public into the air and result in a stable and highly profitable peace-time industry."

Models and design drawings of several convertiplane types were presented, but no actual craft was described or discussed. The Air Force more with the Bell, Sikorsky and McDonnell aircraft companies. Four companies, their identities not yet announced, also are working on secret Navy contracts.

Bennett said, in a prepared paper on the helicopter tug, that whether the airplane is slung beneath the helicopter or is rigidly attached, the resulting composite combination has the advantages of a convertible aircraft without the disadvantages associated with permanent attachment.

He said the helicopter and airplane would be detached at a forward speed within the speed range of each. They could be re-attached, for landing, by techniques comparable to those of refueling airplanes from tankers in flight, he added.

"Large aircraft carriers at sea are thus rendered obsolete and it becomes feasible for fixed wing aircraft to operate from merchant ships for anti-submarine protection," Bennett said.

Louis de Monge de Franeau, a French viscount now associated with Flettner Aircraft Corp. of Kensington, N. Y., described a convertiplane design with wings which rotate to provide helicopter take-offs and landings, then lock into wing position for airplane flight.

The roto-wing is driven by jet engines in its tips, he said. These same jets would provide forward motion, although for higher propelling thrust in airplane flight the craft could switch to jet exhaust nozzle in the center of the wings, over the plane's nose.

The Frenchman, recognized some years ago as the inventor of a "flying wing" airplane, said the craft would have the same weight and carry the same payload as a conventional helicopter, yet in airplane flight would have three times the speed of a helicopter.

Thus, he estimated, it could operate at a cost between two and three cents a passenger mile. Helicopter manufacturer Frank Piasecki recently estimated current helicopter transportation costs at between 6.8 and 8.8 cents a passenger mile.

Huge Response Greets Plea For Homeless Families Here

A tremendous outburst of generosity by Circleville residents followed a plea issued Thursday in behalf of two families who lost their homes in fires early Wednesday.

And, considering the response, Circleville should be able to offer its biggest Christmas present in history well in advance of the big day.

Circleville was asked Thursday to exercise its generosity and dig down for the families of Montford Pollock and his son, Charles, who were left homeless by the fire.

But cash was not specifically asked. Sought were materials and labor to erect new houses for the two families on the dreary sites where their old houses once stood.

The response was slightly overwhelming. Local builders and contractors were ready to donate materials, while individuals kicked in with wood, cement blocks, labor and cash. More than $30 has been contributed to the project so far.

BY FAR one of the largest and most impressive gifts was made by a man who knows what life is after his home is destroyed.

Arnold Fannin, an employee of Replogle Construction Co., donated 2,000 feet of new poplar boards which can be used for sheathing.

Fannin not so long ago lost not only his home but three children in a tragic blaze in Washington Township. He told Fire Chief Talmer Wise:

"People were so very good to me when we were burned out and this is the first chance I've had to pay it back."

Another top contribution offered was by Karl Smith, local building contractor, who has agreed to supervise building during the project.

Smith surveyed the ruins where the Pollock dwellings stood Friday morning and laid out the footers. He is expected to plan the dwellings and his office will supervise actual construction.

Site of the flame-razed homes is to be ready Sunday for volunteer workmen to move in and begin erecting the larger of the two homes, the four-room house of Montford Pollock.

Beginning Thursday, Pollock, his son and friends were to have begun digging footers for the foundation.

THEN EARLY Saturday morning, concrete was poured into

Formosa Seen Getting Envoy

Speculators Say Ike To Aid Nationalists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats speculated today that one of President-elect Eisenhower's early diplomatic moves will be to appoint an ambassador to the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa.

The United States has not had an ambassador there since the government fled to the island in 1949.

The White House announced Thursday night the resignation of John Leighton Stuart, 76, who has held the post of ambassador to China since 1946 but has not been active since mid-1949. He then came home for consultation, shortly later became ill and has not returned.

Stuart, in a resignation letter dated Nov. 28, said he assumed Eisenhower "will wish to have a completely free hand in selecting diplomatic representatives."

In view of the oft-expressed Republican concern about U. S. relations with the government on Formosa, it is considered probable that the Eisenhower administration will send an ambassador there shortly after taking office.

Stuart told President Truman he had not retired earlier because he had hoped his health would improve and enable him to return.

BUT HIS doctors have informed him it may be some time before he is again able to travel great distances, he added.

Accepting the resignation with deep regret, Truman expressed hope that Stuart would devote himself to advancing understanding and friendship between the American and Chinese people. The President described this as "a cause more urgent than ever in these days when the Communist regime at Peking is bending so much energy to the destruction and the fostering of hatred."

At the time Stuart came home, it was generally understood the Truman administration would leave the position in a relatively inactive status indefinitely.

Woman's Trial Nearing Jury

BATAVIA (AP) — There were indications the trial of Mrs. Dovie Blanche Dean, 54, on a first degree murder charge, might go to the jury in Clermont County Common Pleas Court late today.

Mrs. Dean, charged with killing her husband, Hawkins, 68, last August by putting rat poison in milk he drank, was due to take the witness stand in her own behalf today. The state, which is seeking a death sentence, has claimed Mrs. Dean gave her husband rat poison on several occasions last August in order to get his $27,000 estate.

More Religion In Government Said Needed

DENVER (AP) — Leaders of 30 Protestant churches today reaffirmed traditional separation of church and state but asked their 35 million members to live by Christian principles and halt a drift of American government from religious tenets.

They called for more religious education in schools and colleges but said parochial schools should receive no government aid. They demanded a halt to religious and racial discrimination. They encouraged church members to seek political office as a way to halt corruption.

In a formal message to their home churches, clergy and lay leaders backed up statements by members of President-elect Eisenhower's official family that America can lead the way to lasting peace only by showing that freedom works in this country.

The message mirrors the statement by Lutheran Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin Thursday night that "communism will be conquered only through the Christian faith."

Methodist Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas was named president of the national council to succeed the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

Vice presidents include Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, O. The Rev. Reuben H. Mueller of Dayton, O., was reelected recording secretary, and Charles R. Hook of Middletown, O., was named chairman of a standing committee on business and finance.

Eisenhower Steering Clear Of Truman-Mac Argument

Freedom Crusade At Home Is Urged

Dulles, Lodge Talks Give Hint Of Coming Eisenhower Policies

DENVER (AP) — Laying a base for future foreign policy, two leading spokesmen for President-elect Eisenhower claim a crusade to make freedom work at home is essential to break the spell of communism abroad.

John Foster Dulles said last night something has "gone wrong" with American life. The incoming secretary of state called for a spiritual revival. He warned that "when ennobling purpose goes out of freedom, it is easily displaced by false faiths, such as communism."

Dulles' speech, his first since being named by Eisenhower, was recorded and played to both the National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA and to a nationwide radio audience. It closely paralleled one to the church meeting here 24 hours earlier by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. (R-Mass), designated ambassador to the United Nations.

Both called for a strengthening of the UN and said the international organization deters Soviet aggression. Both said discrimination in America must end because it threatens U. S. attempts to lead a free world to durable peace.

AND BOTH said private individuals and groups must lend more help to other peoples and stop counting on government efforts.

"Nothing has been more disastrous to the cause of freedom than our growing assumption that nothing happens unless government does it," Dulles declared.

He pledged the Eisenhower administration to make place for the individual and "group efforts" to supplement Marshall Plan, Point Four and similar foreign aid.

Dulles sought to reassure America's allies. He noted some persons were frightened by Eisenhower's campaign discussion of liberating countries behind the Iron Curtain, adding:

"That fear illustrates the degree to which even free people have come to think in governmental and military terms."

Dulles said U. S. military policy "must be only a defensive policy." He recalled that Abraham Lincoln interpreted the Declaration of Independence to mean "liberty not alone to the people of this country but hope for the world for all future time."

"The need today is to rekindle faith in freedom, and to make it contagious, by a fresh demonstration of what to do with freedom," Dulles said.

Senator Gives Warning To UN

Wiley Says U. S. Cut In Support Possible

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) threatened the UN Thursday night with a loss of its biggest chunk of financial support—that from the United States—unless something is done to keep American subversives and spies out of the UN Secretariat.

But in making his threat, Wiley, who is slated to head the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the new Congress, made it clear he thinks a major part of the blame for alleged U. S. subversives still on the UN payroll lies with the American State Department.

Wiley said that congressional sentiment is building up to cut off U. S. money for the international organization "unless adequate security procedures have been worked out to guarantee that the UN and its organs do not remain a base for espionage and subversion."

The U. S. pays a little more than one-third of the UN bills and has contributed 560 million dollars to it since 1946.

WILEY is serving as a U. S. delegate to the UN Assembly, but he emphasized that he spoke only as a senator. The American delegation to the UN was taken back by Wiley's blast and had no comment.

The Wisconsin Republican attacked current arrangements on security between the State Department and the UN as "hopelessly inadequate."

He said UN Secretary General Trygve Lie had a "clearer conception" of the problem than some State Department officials.

He blamed Washington officials for giving Lie inadequate information on which to act against American employees with allegedly subversive records.

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State John Hickerson told the McCarran Senate internal security subcommittee Wednesday that the State Department had supplied Lie with adverse information on about 40 American UN employees, but that 14 of them still were employed by the UN.

Ohio Grange Asks Highway Fixup Check

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio State Grange today urged every county in the state to set up long-range highway programs to ensure prompt improvement of roads used extensively by farmers.

Roads to be improved first should be picked on the basis of such factors as their service to rural letter carriers, school buses and commodity collection routes, the Grange said.

In a policy report announced at the close of a convention here Thursday, the Grange also urged that formulas for distribution of state aid to local roads be based on township mileage rather than on the per-township-unit method employed now.

The Grange urged allocation of highway costs be distributed equitably and fairly among the various beneficiaries of the highways.

Other resolutions: Urged Congress to spend federal money to continue the rural electrification program and to improve rural telephone service; asked the Ohio General Assembly to allocate more funds to improve the colleges of agriculture and veterinary medicine and to expand the Wooster Experimental Station; called for stronger strip-mining laws and for strict enforcement of state laws regulating truck weights, sizes.

Nationwide TV Audience Sees Live Metropolitan Opera

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Metropolitan Opera's famed golden curtain went up Thursday night, a silver screen audience coast to coast settled back to enjoy the telecast of Bizet's "Carmen."

More than 3,000 opera lovers at the Met itself were joined electronically by thousands of other patrons of 31 theatres in 27 cities.

Total seating capacity of the theatres was estimated at 60,000. Reports on attendance ranged from half full to capacity.

The closed circuit telecast (you couldn't see it on your home TV set) found a sprinkling of mink in some movie houses. But the bulk of the TV viewers wore their weekday clothes and a few brought the children. Popcorn was banned in many of the film palaces.

The met prices ranged from $1.25 for standing room to an $8 top. The theater scale was $1.20 to $7.20.

CRIES OF "BRAVO" at the Met echoed in the theaters, whose audiences behaved just about like that in the stadi old house at 39th Street—some came in late, whispered a bit, applauded various numbers.

Fading and fuzziness of the pictures was general, but the audience didn't seem to mind too much.

Most of the complaints about picture reception came from theater managers and music critics.

Here are some reactions on the TV version:

Boston: "Sound excellent, quality of picture far from good."

Los Angeles: "Appause and many braves. Lobby comments ran from 'wonderful' to 'terrific.' Some fuzziness due to natural blup of TV picture. This is the way we're going to get our customers back."

Baltimore: "Technically good, sound better than picture. Not wild enthusiasm, but good applause for some big scenes. One 60-second interruption due to technical troubles."

Cincinnati: "Overpriced. Better for the ear than for the eye."

Air Guard Hopes To Avoid Moving

DAYTON (AP) — The Ohio Air National Guard, looking for long runways to accommodate jet planes, hopes to keep its headquarters at Dayton Municipal Airport.

President-Elect Lolls In Hawaiian Sunshine, Shuns All Comment

HONOLULU (AP) — President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, relaxing in bright Hawaiian sunshine from his Korean tour and policy-shaping talks, was steering clear today of any fight between President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur over a peace plan for Korea.

Eisenhower planned to play at least 18 holes of golf today on the windswept course alongside the sea at Kaneohe, the Marine Corps air station across Oahu Island from Honolulu.

He also planned talks with John Foster Dulles, secretary of state-designate, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon, Eisenhower's selection as secretary of the interior.

Two close associates predicted Eisenhower would shun public controversy with the President. Truman Thursday called the Eisenhower mission to Korea a "piece of political demagoguery" and said it was MacArthur's duty as a soldier to report to the President if he has any plan for peace in Korea.

"Ike is not going to get into any quarrel with Truman," one of Eisenhower's close friends said.

"HE'S GOING to see Gen. MacArthur, as he said he would, to get MacArthur's views on the best way to bring peace to the Far East. He is not going to become involved in any fight over it."

"Ike will stand on the sidelines in the Truman-MacArthur affair," another associate said. "Truman has said some harsh things about Ike, but it's my guess that he (Eisenhower) won't make a reply."

The President virtually closed the door Thursday on proposals for a meeting with Eisenhower and MacArthur. He said he believes such a meeting would serve no useful purpose.

MacArthur implied last week he had a new plan for peace in Korea when he made a nationwide speech in New York.

In Washington today Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo) proposed an immediate

Civil Court Asked To Eye Wac's Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civilian court of military appeals has been asked to reconsider its decision affirming the conviction and sentence of six Wac sergeants court-martialed for beating up another woman soldier near Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

The court announced its decision last Friday. Thursday the Army was informed attorneys for the girls had requested the highest court of military justice to reconsider. It was not known immediately how long it will take for the tribunal to make a decision.

All six Wacs were sentenced to lose pay and allowances and to be dishonorably discharged. Confinement sentences, as finally approved by the army, ranged from one year to 18 months.

Three of the six were freed after serving brief terms. Two have completed their terms of confinement at Fort Breckenridge, with time allowed for good behavior, and have been assigned to Fort Meade, Md., pending final disposition of their appeals.

All six were victims of joint assault on former Pfc. Carol Kierce of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

Huge Response Greet's Plea For Homeless Families Here

A tremendous outburst of generosity by Circleville residents followed a plea issued Thursday in behalf of two families who lost their homes in fires early Wednesday.

And, considering the response, Circleville should be able to offer its biggest Christmas present in history well in advance of the big day.

Circleville was asked Thursday to exercise its generosity and dig down for the families of Montford Pollock and his son, Charles, who were left homeless by the fire.

But cash was not specifically asked. Sought were materials and labor to erect new houses for the two families on the dreary sites where their old houses once stood.

The response was slightly overwhelming. Local builders and contractors were ready to donate materials, while individuals kicked in

BY FAR one of the largest and most impressive gifts was made by a man who knows what life is after his home is destroyed.

Arnold Fannin, an employee of Repliege Construction Co., donated 2,000 feet of new poplar boards which can be used for sheathing.

Fannin not so long ago lost not only his home but three children in a tragic blaze in Washington Township. He told Fire Chief Talmer Wise:

"People were so very good to me when we were burned out and this is the first chance I've had to pay it back."

Another top contribution offered was by Karl Smith, local building contractor, who has agreed to supervise building during the project.

Smith surveyed the ruins where the Pollock dwellings stood Friday morning and laid out the footers. He is expected to plan the dwellings and his office will supervise actual construction.

Site of the flame-razed homes is to be ready Sunday for volunteer workmen to move in and begin erecting the larger of the two homes, the four-room house of Montford Pollock.

Beginning Thursday, Pollock, his son and friends were to have begun digging footers for the foundation.

THEN EARLY Saturday morning, concrete was poured into the footers, concrete donated by Circleville Basic Construction Co.

Next will be laying of cement blocks, contributed by Sturm and Dillard Gravel Co. and Lee Giffin, by Firemen Fred Howell and Bernard Wolfe, top brickmasons. Sturm and Dillard also is donating mortar and sand to the project.

Weather permitting, the footers and foundation should be completed and ready for above-ground construction at 9 a. m. Sunday.

Lumber for the above-ground construction has been donated by Barnes Lumber Co., Circleville Lumber Co., Ankrom Lumber Co., Devoss Lumber Co. and Alfred Lee Lumber Co., in addition to private contributions.

Nails, bolts and hinges have been offered by Koehneiser's, Harpster and Yost, Boyers and Cussins and Fearn.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. has installed a circuit to the site so power tools may be used, and employees have offered services for installing wiring.

Crowning achievement will be by the roofing companies of Circleville, who have promised to supply the men and materials to completely cover the dwelling.

NOW THE biggest necessity remaining is for workmen to man saws, hammers and other paraphernalia and pitch in to raise the house.

Circleville American Legion through Commander Harry Clifton has offered its services as helpers for construction, while everyone

The attack on price and wage controls came in a section of the committee's report devoted to national economic policies. The controls, it said, "have no place in this co-ordinated attack on the inflation problem. Price and wage controls impede the control of inflation by diverting attention from the fundamental requirements of a sound program. By wasting manpower, creating confusion and disrupting business procedures and relationships, ceilings make the job of getting necessary production vastly more difficult."

The report on public power said "the production, transmission and distribution of power should be primarily a function of private enterprise, either co-operative or non-cooperative."

"The entry of the federal government into the power business should be restricted to those instances in which private enterprise or state governments are not able or willing to assume responsibility for such development."

And, the delegates agreed, when the government does construct a dam, the right to generate power at the dam site should be sold to private enterprise or to states or their political subdivisions.

DENVER (AP) — Laying a base for future foreign policy, two leading spokesmen for President-elect Eisenhower claim a crusade to make freedom work at home is essential to break the spell of communism abroad.

John Foster Dulles said last night something has "gone wrong" with American life. The incoming secretary of state called for a spiritual revival. He warned that "when ennobling purpose goes out of freedom, it is easily displaced by false faiths, such as communism."

Dulles' speech, his first since being named by Eisenhower, was recorded and played to both the National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA and to a nationwide radio audience. It closely paralleled one to the church meeting here 24 hours earlier by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. (R-Mass.), designated ambassador to the United Nations.

Both called for a strengthening of the UN and said the international organization deters Soviet aggression. Both said discrimination in America must end because it threatens U. S. attempts to lead a free world to durable peace.

AND BOTH SAID private individuals and groups must lend more help to other peoples and stop counting on government efforts.

"Nothing has been more disastrous to the cause of freedom than our growing assumption that nothing happens unless government does it," Dulles declared.

He pledged the Eisenhower administration to make place for the individual and "group efforts" to supplement Marshall Plan, Point Four and similar foreign aid.

Dulles sought to reassure America's allies. He noted some persons were frightened by Eisenhower's campaign discussion of liberating countries behind the Iron Curtain, adding:

"That fear illustrates the degree to which even free people have come to think in governmental and military terms."

Dulles said U. S. military policy "must be only a defensive policy." He recalled that Abraham Lincoln interpreted the Declaration of Independence to mean "liberty not alone to the people of this country but hope for the world for all future time."

"The need today is to rekindle faith in freedom, and to make it contagious, by a fresh demonstration of what to do with freedom," Dulles said.

Senator Gives Warning To UN

Wiley Says U. S. Cut In Support Possible

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) threatened the UN Thursday night with a loss of its biggest chunk of financial support—that from the United States—unless something is done to keep American subversives and spies out of the UN Secretariat.

But in making his threat, Wiley, who is slated to head the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the new Congress, made it clear he thinks a major part of the blame for alleged U. S. subversives still on the UN payroll lies with the American State Department.

Wiley said that congressional sentiment is building up to cut off U. S. money for the international organization "unless adequate security procedures have been worked out to guarantee that the UN and its organs do not remain a base for espionage and subversion."

The U. S. pays a little more than one-third of the UN bills and has contributed 560 million dollars to it since 1946.

WILEY is serving as a U. S. delegate to the UN Assembly, but he emphasized that he spoke only as a senator. The American delegation to the UN was taken back by Wiley's blast and had no comment.

The Wisconsin Republican attacked current arrangements on security between the State Department and the UN as "hopelessly inadequate."

He said UN Secretary General Trygve Lie had a "clearer conception" of the problem than some State Department officials.

He blamed Washington officials for giving Lie inadequate information on which to act against American employees with allegedly subversive records.

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State John Hickerson told the McCarran Senate internal security subcommittee Wednesday that the State Department had supplied Lie with adverse information on about 40 American UN employees, but that 14 of them still were employed by the UN.

Now they have agreed to meet again, face to face, for MacArthur to submit his plan for ending the Korean strife.

Nationwide TV Audience Sees Live Metropolitan Opera

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Metropolitan Opera's famed golden curtain went up Thursday night, a silver screen audience coast to coast settled back to enjoy the telecast of Bizet's "Carmen."

More than 3,000 opera lovers at the Met itself were joined electronically by thousands of other patrons of 31 theatres in 27 cities.

Total seating capacity of the theatres was estimated at 60,000. Reports on attendance ranged from half full to capacity.

The closed circuit telecast (you couldn't see it on your home TV set) found a sprinkling of mink in some movie houses. But the bulk of the TV viewers wore their weekday clothes and a few brought the children. Popcorn was banned in many of the film palaces.

The met prices ranged from $1.25 for standing room to an $8 top. The theater scale was $1.20 to $7.20.

CRIES OF "BRAVO" at the Met echoed in the theaters, whose audiences behaved just about like that in the staid old house at 39th Street—some came in late, whispered a bit, applauded various numbers.

Fading and fuzziness of the pictures was general, but the audience didn't seem to mind too much. Most of the complaints about picture reception came from theater managers and music critics.

Here are some reactions on the TV version:

Boston: "Sound excellent, quality of picture far from good."

Los Angeles: "Applause and many bravos. Lobby comments ran from 'wonderful' to 'terrific.' Some fuzziness due to natural blowup of TV picture. This is the way we're going to get our customers back."

Baltimore: "Technically good, sound better than picture. Not wildly enthusiastic, but good applause for some big scenes. One 60-second interruption due to technical troubles."

Cincinnati: "Overpriced. Better for the ear than for the eye."

President-Elect Lolls In Hawaiian Sunshine, Shuns All Comment

HONOLULU (AP) — President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, relaxing in bright Hawaiian sunshine from his Korean tour and policy-shaping talks, was steering clear today of any fight between President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur over a peace plan for Korea.

Eisenhower planned to play at least 18 holes of golf today on the windswept course alongside the sea at Kaneohe, the Marine Corps air station across Oahu Island from Honolulu.

He also planned talks with John Foster Dulles, secretary of state-designate, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon, Eisenhower's selection as secretary of the interior.

Two close associates predicted Eisenhower would shun public controversy with the President. Truman Thursday called the Eisenhower mission to Korea a "piece of political demagoguery" and said it was MacArthur's duty as a soldier to report to the President if he has any plan for peace in Korea.

"Ike is not going to get into any quarrel with Truman," one of Eisenhower's close friends said.

"HE'S GOING to see Gen. MacArthur, as he said he would, to get MacArthur's views on the best way to bring peace to the Far East. He is not going to become involved in any fight over it."

"Ike will stand on the sidelines in the Truman-MacArthur affair," another associate said. "Truman has said some harsh things about Ike, but it's my guess that he (Eisenhower) won't make a reply."

The President virtually closed the door Thursday on proposals for a meeting with Eisenhower and MacArthur. He said he believes such a meeting would serve no useful purpose.

MacArthur implied last week he had a new plan for peace in Korea when he made a nationwide speech in New York.

In Washington today Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) proposed an immediate

Civil Court Asked To Eye Wac's Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civilian court of military appeals has been asked to reconsider its decision affirming the conviction and sentence of six Wac sergeants court-martialed for beating up another woman soldier near Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

The court announced its decision last Friday. Thursday the Army was informed attorneys for the girls had requested the highest court of military justice to reconsider. It was not known immediately how long it will take for the tribunal to make a decision.

All six Wacs were sentenced to lose pay and allowances and to be dishonorably discharged. Confinement sentences, as finally approved by the army, ranged from one year to 18 months.

Three of the six were freed after serving brief terms. Two have completed their terms of confinement at Fort Breckenridge, with time allowed for good behavior, and have been assigned to Fort Meade, Md., pending final disposition of their appeals.

All six were convicted of joint assault on former Pvt. Carol Kierce of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

City Toy Tour's Second Round Meets Willing Public Response

Circleville's Toy Tour Thursday night—the second of three rounds in collecting toys for needy children—was a big success.

Sponsored by Circleville American Legion drum and bugle corps as a civic gesture, collections netted about $50 in cash contributions and a truckload of toys.

It was a marked reversal from the first night of the Toy Tour last week, when the collections met only lukewarm response and finally were halted by a downpour of rain.

Commander Carl Radcliff of the Legion corps said:

"IT SEEMED everybody was waiting for us Thursday night when we started collecting in the central

Woman Asks To Spend Yule Days In Jail

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A 28-year-old New Orleans woman sentenced to four years in a federal penitentiary wants to spend Christmas "with all my friends" in the county jail here.

Mrs. Mercedes Adrian Caldwell made the request in Federal Court when she was sentenced yesterday on a charge of transporting a stolen car from New Orleans to Billings, Mont.

Mrs. Caldwell explained that she found prisoners and staff congenial at the Bernalillo County lockup during her 2½-month stay and she doesn't want to spend the holiday in a strange prison.

U. S. District Judge Carl Hatch instructed the U. S. marshal to fulfill the request if the law allows.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Today and twenty-five hundred years ago people have usually the kind of leadership they want and deserve. Leaders sometimes arise because they flatter and make false promises, and stir up prejudices. We should elevate just and honest and intelligent men and follow them and avoid the charlatan.

Huge Response Greets Plea For Families

handy with a hammer or a saw is invited to join in the project.

Persons planning to help out in raising the house may report at 9 a. m. Sunday to Smith or one of his aides at the site, located directly behind the ice plant along the Norfolk and Western Railway. Work will continue until men or materials give out.

Meanwhile, the Pollock families have been almost completely outfitted with clothing and furniture by city residents.

Led by the Red Cross, individuals and groups have supplied the families, especially the Montford Pollock family, with good, clean clothing and sturdy, usable furniture.

Montford Pollock's family failed to save anything in the blaze which left them homeless. The son and his family were able to save a few possessions.

Meanwhile, condition of Max Pollock, 17, son of Montford, remains serious in a Columbus hospital.

Max was severely burned about the face and hands during the fire as he rushed into the front room of the home to warn the other members of the family.

Virtually the only things needed now by the family or for the project are kitchen utensils—pots, pans, skillets, plates, hardware — and electric wiring.

Circleville women can take part in Sunday's house-raising if they wish. Women may prepare coffee or sandwiches for the workmen on the job while taking a look at how well the men are progressing.

Phone Firm Hit Bitterly In Hearing

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A Bowling Green businessman charged today the president of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. is "trying to put me out of business" by denying telephone service.

Howard J. Ward, manager of a Bowling Green lumber yard, made the accusation at a state utilities commission hearing on the company's application for a rate increase.

Ward charged William C. Henry, company president, had singled him out for discrimination "contrary to the basic laws of a public utility."

He said Henry had prevented him from getting a business phone, refused to list his name in the directory, and falsely charged him with slow payment of bills.

Ward presented statements to show his personal financial worth was as high as $253,000 in 1949, and credit endorsements from a financial institution.

The Bowling Green man said when Northern Ohio asked an earlier rate increase he sent out petitions to customers asking them to protest to the utilities commission.

Ward said he got "93 per cent replies," but didn't present the petitions to the commission when Henry promised the complaints would be taken care of.

Ward charged Henry didn't live up to his promise after the rate increase was granted. When he protested, Ward said Henry told him "What can you do about it? We got the rate increase."

Friends Say Taft In Line As Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Friends of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) refused today to count him out of the race for Republican floor leader in the new Senate.

But it still seemed likely that Sen. Bridges (R-NH) would retain the job in a move for harmony. Both men kept their own counsel on the subject.

The floor leader in effect will be the right hand man of President-elect Eisenhower in the Senate.

On the face of it, this would be a strange role for Taft, whose supporters at the Republican national convention in Chicago last July chanted a little song which started out "Poor, Blind Ike."

But one of Taft's close friends said the Ohioan believes that as floor leader he could contribute most to the cause of harmony in the Senate between his own loyal followers and those of Eisenhower.

This source, declining to be named, said the senator wants to be the leader only if Bridges steps out, and then would take the job only because he believes the daily contacts with the White House which the job requires would help to avert any open discord.

Red Skelton Scheduled To Undergo Knife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Suffering from a painful diaphragmatic hernia, comedian Red Skelton was scheduled to undergo surgery today at St. John's Hospital.

The ailment was diagnosed several days ago. Physicians at first thought they might be able to postpone surgery so the comic could resume filming his television shows.

However, friends said, the hernia permitted his stomach to push against his heart and lungs, causing breathing difficulties and other unpleasant symptoms.

Mrs. Georgia Skelton said her husband appeared jovial yesterday when "he finally made his decision to get it over with as soon as possible."

Dr. Stanley Immerman and three specialists will operate. The surgery is expected to take from 3½ to five hours.

Collegiate Yule Tree To Be Costly

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A beautiful 14-foot blue spruce cut down from the Springfield Country Club has been found in the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity house at Wittenberg College.

Deputy Sheriff E. R. Baker said that if the fraternity boys pay for the tree, valued at $280, they can keep it.

"We probably have the most expensive tree in the country," one member moaned.

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today announced distribution of $2,829,600 from the gasoline excise tax fund. Each county receives $20,000 and each township $8,000.

City Toy Tour's Second Round Meets Willing Public Response

Circleville's Toy Tour Thursday night—the second of three rounds in collecting used toys for needy children—was a big success.

Sponsored by Circleville American Legion drum and bugle corps as a civic gesture, collections netted about $50 in cash contributions and a truckload of toys.

It was a marked reversal from the first night of the Toy Tour last week, when the collections met only lukewarm response and finally were halted by a downpour of rain.

Commander Carl Radcliff of the Legion corps said:

"IT SEEMED everybody was waiting for us Thursday night when we started collecting in the central sections of the city. They'd hear the corps music, come to their doors and then hurry back inside to bring out their used toys."

"Only in a few cases were we offered toys that were broken—which of course, we can't accept since we have no way of fixing them in time for Christmas distribution."

"The only thing that stopped us, in fact, was the success of collection—we loaded the truck so soon and our door-to-door collectors had so much to do that we finally had to call a halt for the night."

It was originally planned to make pickups in parts of the South end along with the central-city pickups Thursday night, to compensate for the bad start last week. The unusually good response, however, confined the work to central areas.

James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service officer and a member of the corps, has emphasized the Legion unit will make special pickups for anyone south of Main street who is still holding contributions. Shea's telephone number is 351.

Under the original plan, next week's Toy Tour will move through the North end. Boy Scouts assist the Legion men in making the door-to-door collections.

Woman Asks To Spend Yule Days In Jail

ALBUQUERQUE (U)—A 28-year-old New Orleans woman sentenced to four years in a federal penitentiary wants to spend Christmas "with all my friends" in the county jail here.

Mrs. Mercedes Adrian Caldwell made the request in Federal Court when she was sentenced yesterday on a charge of transporting a stolen car from New Orleans to Billings, Mont.

Mrs. Caldwell explained that she found prisoners and staff congenial at the Bernalillo County lockup during her 2½-month stay and she doesn't want to spend the holiday in a strange prison.

U. S. District Judge Carl Hatch instructed the U. S. marshal to fulfill the request if the law allows.

Puzzle Gets Deeper On Missing Letter From Inspection Bureau

Search for a missing letter, addressed to Mayor Ed Amey and recommending Circleville double the number of its city firemen, apparently was still faced with baffling question marks Friday.

Likewise puzzling was what steps the city could take to comply with the recommendation, embodied in a letter sent here by the Ohio Inspection Bureau, an agency chiefly maintained by fire insurance concerns.

"The Case of the Missing Letter" was unfolded in true mystery fashion recently when it was learned a copy of the letter—but not the original—was produced at last meeting of City Council and later turned over to Clerk of Council Fred Nicholas.

The letter produced just prior to

Bandleader, His Aide To Swap Wives

HOLLYWOOD — Bandleader Billy May is going to marry the divorced wife of his business agent, Carlos Gastel, and Gastel, in a reciprocal mood, is going to wed the former Mrs. Billy May.

That's the way things are, says May's press agent, Gene Howard, who added that Mrs. Gastel and May are in Bloomington, Ill., where May is on tour with his orchestra. Gastel and Mrs. May are due back from an eastern trip today, said Howard. May and Mrs. Gastel are expected home just before Christmas.

The Mays were divorced Nov. 21, the Gastels Dec. 2. Both wives alleged cruelty. Both have two children by their divorced mates.

Howard said the quadrangle started when Gastel began managing May a year ago. "He became friendly with Billy's wife," said Howard, "and it got to be a constant thing. With Billy and Mrs. Gastel it seemed to start out as a matter of crying on each other's shoulder, but soon they were being seen together a lot."

State Hospital Attendant Fired

COLUMBUS, O. — An attendant at Toledo State Hospital accused of responsibility for a fire at the institution last Saturday, has been fired for "drunkenness and incompetence."

Dr. J. E. Duly, superintendent, told the civil service commission he suspended Herman H. Ervin the morning after the fire, and ordered him discharged effective today.

The fire caused no injuries, but 50 women patients had to be evacuated.

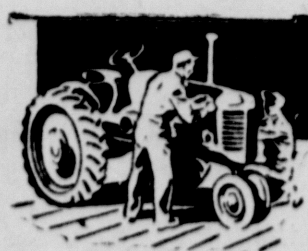

The state fire marshal has prohibited use of electrical appliances in the hospital as a fire hazard. Ervin admitted he left an electric percolator on the wooden floor of his room.

Every Day To Be Christmas In Christmas

CHRISTMAS, Fla. — The 200 or so persons in this little community are out to make every day Christmas Day.

As a step in this direction they planted a permanent Christmas tree recently.

Weatherproof ornaments were substituted for the usual fragile tinsel. Any day you drive through Christmas you'll see a full-blown Christmas tree.

In addition to planting and decorating the new tree, the residents have been busy with the usual flood of Christmas mail.

Mrs. Juanita Tucker, the postmaster who inherited the job from her mother-in-law in 1932, handled about 300,000 pieces of mail last Christmas — with the help of 12 other women.

Mrs. Tucker says she expects even more mail this year. Central Florida residents and lots of tourists as well drive to the town so that their cards and presents will have the added touch of a "Christmas" postmark.

Grandma Didn't Wait For Rescue

PITTSBURGH — Eighteen-month-old Darlene Daugherty was trapped in a burning third-floor apartment with her grandmother.

But Grandma—63-year-old Mrs. Mary McEvoy — wasn't sitting around waiting to be rescued. She tossed little Darlene across an alleyway into the arms of Mrs. John A. Paul standing on a porch five feet below the roof of her three-story home.

Shortly afterward firemen climbed into the apartment to rescue Mrs. McEvoy and Mrs. Clara Ferguson, a second floor tenant who had fled upstairs as the flames gushed upward.

Welfare Units' Needs Outlined

COLUMBUS, O. — The heads of Ohio's welfare institutions say they will need nearly 80 million dollars in the next two years for new buildings, repairs and equipment.

State Welfare Director John H. Lamneck said today that's the amount the heads of state hospitals, correctional and juvenile institutions want him to seek from the state Legislature which convenes Jan. 5.

Lamneck said he and his assistants would review the requests before submitting a budget to the governor.

Suits Filed To Break Up Soap Combines

WASHINGTON — The government today sued to break up the nation's three leading soap-makers into a group of smaller competing companies.

The anti-trust suit was filed in the federal district court at Newark, N. J. Attorney General McGranery announced the action here.

It was directed against Procter and Gamble Co., Cincinnati, O., the Colgate-Palmolive Peet Co., Jersey City; and Lever Brothers Co., New York City.

The complaint also named as a defendant the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers Inc., of New York City, a trade association. It was accused of assisting the three big soap firms "in achieving and maintaining their restraints and monopolization."

The suit alleged that Procter, Colgate and Lever together get at least 75 per cent of the national sales of household soap and that they handle about 90 per cent of the newer household - detergent business, developed in recent years.

The Justice Department said that the soap and detergent business last year amounted to about 710 million dollars.

Puzzle Gets Deeper On Missing Letter From Inspection Bureau

Search for a missing letter, addressed to Mayor Ed Amey and recommending Circleville double the number of its city firemen, apparently was still faced with baffling question marks Friday.

Likewise puzzling was what steps the city could take to comply with the recommendation, embodied in a letter sent here by the Ohio Inspection Bureau, an agency chiefly maintained by fire insurance concerns.

"The Case of the Missing Letter" was unfolded in true mystery fashion recently when it was learned a copy of the letter—but not the original—was produced at last meeting of City Council and later turned over to Clerk of Council Fred Nicholas.

The letter produced just prior to

'Bandleader, His Aide To Swap Wives

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bandleader Billy May is going to marry the divorced wife of his business agent, Carlos Gastel, and Gastel, in a reciprocal mood, is going to wed the former Mrs. Billy May.

That's the way things are, says May's press agent, Gene Howard, who added that Mrs. Gastel and May are in Bloomington, Ill., where May is on tour with his orchestra. Gastel and Mrs. May are due back from an eastern trip today, said Howard. May and Mrs. Gastel are expected home just before Christmas.

The Mays were divorced Nov. 21, the Gastels Dec. 2. Both wives alleged cruelty. Both have two children by their divorced mates.

Howard said the quadrangle started when Gastel began managing May a year ago.

"He became friendly with Billy's wife," said Howard, "and it got to be a constant thing. With Billy and Mrs. Gastel it seemed to start out as a matter of crying on each other's shoulder, but soon they were being seen together a lot."

State Hospital Attendant Fired

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—An attendant at Toledo State Hospital accused of responsibility for a fire at the institution last Saturday, has been fired for "drunkenness and incompetence."

Dr. J. E. Duty, superintendent, told the civil service commission he suspended Herman H. Ervin the morning after the fire, and ordered him discharged effective today.

The fire caused no injuries, but 50 women patients had to be evacuated.

The state fire marshal has prohibited use of electrical appliances in the hospital as a fire hazard. Ervin admitted he left an electric percolator on the wooden floor of his room.

Every Day To Be Christmas In Christmas

CHRISTMAS, Fla. (AP)—The 200 or so persons in this little community are out to make every day Christmas Day.

As a step in this direction they planted a permanent Christmas tree recently.

Weatherproof ornaments were substituted for the usual fragile tinsel. Any day you drive through Christmas you'll see a full-blown Christmas tree.

In addition to planting and decorating the new tree, the residents have been busy with the usual flood of Christmas mail.

Mrs. Juanita Tucker, the postmaster who inherited the job from her mother-in-law in 1932, handled about 300,000 pieces of mail last Christmas—with the help of 12 other women.

Mrs. Tucker says she expects even more mail this year. Central Florida residents and lots of tourists as well drive to the town so that their cards and presents will have the added touch of a "Christmas" postmark.

Grandma Didn't Wait For Rescue

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Eighteen-month-old Darlene Daugherty was trapped in a burning third-floor apartment with her grandmother.

But Grandma—63-year-old Mrs. Mary McEvoy—wasn't sitting around waiting to be rescued. She tossed little Darlene across an alleyway into the arms of Mrs. John A. Paul standing on a porch five feet below the roof of her three-story home.

Shortly afterward firemen climbed into the apartment to rescue Mrs. McEvoy and Mrs. Clara Ferguson, a second floor tenant who had fled upstairs as the flames gushed upward.

Welfare Units' Needs Outlined

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The heads of Ohio's welfare institutions say they will need nearly 80 million dollars in the next two years for new buildings, repairs and equipment.

State Welfare Director John H. Lamneck said today that's the amount the heads of state hospitals, correctional and juvenile institutions want him to seek from the state legislature which convenes Jan. 5.

Lamneck said he and his assistants would review the requests before submitting a budget to the governor.

Lambert Warns City PTA On Shortage Of Teachers

Monty C. Lambert, president of the Circleville Parent-Teacher Association, warned the group Thursday night that sub-standard salaries for teachers are causing an increasingly serious problem for this and every other American community.

Reminding his listeners the heart of PTA activity is aimed toward "the future of our children," Lambert added:

"But we're not going to have the future of our children unless we have teachers. And we're not going to have teachers unless we pay them fair salaries. It's as simple as that."

Lambert's warning on an issue that has been gaining proportions all over the nation for many years highlighted the PTA gathering in Circleville High School auditorium.

Those at the meeting were also told of PTA membership gains, activities of the high school's Stouge Club and the needs of children stricken by cerebral palsy.

LAMBERT SAID the seriousness of the teachers' pay problem was brought into sharp focus at a recent meeting of the Ohio Education Association. He said:

"I didn't realize, until I got up there and met people from all over Ohio and saw comparative salary schedules, how critical the teachers' pay problem has become."

"I think it's a very serious matter, and one that we—as parents of school children—are going to have to think more, and talk more about."

Lambert asked the local PTA to take increased interest in the matter during the coming state legislative session and added "we intend to keep the PTA closely abreast of the developments at Columbus through our Pickaway County state representative, Ed Wallace."

He asked that individual PTA members "be sure to let Mr. Wallace know how you feel on the issues involved, either by seeing him personally or by letter."

The local PTA leader brought out that only four members of this year's senior class at Circleville High School plan to take up teaching. The class is expected to graduate about 84 boys and girls, and approximately 30 per cent of that number is expected to continue for advanced education, school officials said.

LAMBERT SAID many things aside from the salaries received also must be considered in making a school system attractive for teachers.

Lambert's reference was to working conditions and similar factors which, he said, have deteriorated in many sections along with teacher pay scales. Some schools in Ohio are forced to hold only half-day sessions because of the teacher shortage, he said.

"I know we in Circleville feel it can't happen here," he told his listeners, "but we may come to the day when we, too, are faced with the need for emergency steps to meet the shortage of teachers. It's a national problem, and one that reaches into the life of every community."

"I want the members of this organization to think more about it."

An increase of 103 members for the city PTA as result of a three-week membership drive was announced by Mrs. George Gerhardt, chairman for the campaign. The city PTA membership has been raised from 500 last year to a current total of 603.

Atwater School was declared winner of a prize for having the highest percentage gain. Close competition for the prize was offered by High Street School, which finished the drive less than two percentage points behind the winners.

Mrs. Gerhardt listed individual school PTA percentages as follows: Atwater, 77 per cent; High Street, 75.7; Franklin, 56.4; Walnut, 52; Corwin, 31.3; High School, 18.7.

PRIZE-WINNING grades and their teachers at each school in the drive to boost PTA membership were:

Atwater Grade 2, Mrs. Lucille Scott; High Street Grade 5, Mrs. Marguerite Weiler; Franklin Kindergarten, Mrs. Ruth Schneider; Walnut Grade 4, Ethel Stein; Corwin Grade 7, John L. Chilcote.

Members of the committee advising Mrs. Gerhardt in the drive were:

Mrs. David Cerny, Mrs. Ed Grigg, Mrs. William Rieck, Betty Styers, Mrs. Harry Barthelmas, Mrs. Everett Stocklen, Mrs. Ned Griner, and John L. Chilcote.

Virgil Cress, former advisor to Circleville High School's Stouge Club, outlined origin of the exclusive student organization and its activities in promotion of CHS sports activities.

He later introduced Bob Turner, this year's president of the club which is composed of boys from the top three classes.

Turner described typical projects advanced by the club in each of the major sports and told of the group's year-round efforts in behalf of the high school's athletic program.

Walter Heine, club vice president, outlined the system of meetings and told an effective method to insure prompt attendance at each. Members who are late are fined one cent a minute for the interval of their tardiness, and those who fail to attend the sessions are required to give a full explanation later.

DICK BOYD, newly-hired at CHS this year to coach baseball and help in coaching basketball and football, told of his duties as club advisor. He said the club is aware of criticism aimed at its rule restricting membership to about 20 boys, but emphasized the rule is designed only to make the group an effective, compact working unit on its various projects.

He added the club hopes in some way to find a way to meet the criticism without loss of the group's effectiveness.

Mrs. Clark Alexander, president of Pickaway County Crippled Children Society, spoke on the needs of children stricken with cerebral palsy.

She described vast improvements made over the last 30 years in the diagnosis and treatment of the disease, and underlined the necessity for continued efforts in this respect. The county organization works in close co-ordination with the Ohio Crippled Children Society.

Mrs. Alexander reminded the PTA audience that treatment for cerebral palsy, a disease usually traced to nerve damage at birth, must be prolonged and careful, thus requiring full support by community organizations. She warned also of a shortage of doctors specialized in treating cerebral palsy.

Above all, the Society president called for aid here and elsewhere so that handicapped children, though specialized training, may be enabled to take their place eventually with other school children in their age range.

"The school years of a handicapped child," she said, "are the happiest years of the child's life."

MOST impressive note of the program came just prior to refresh-

A picture, a headline, a brief announcement can whet your appetite for news, but cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

It takes words—sometimes many—to satisfy your curiosity about the who, what, when and where of any picture or headline. Words bring meaning, words bring understanding, words bring news. Newspapers bring news.

Only the newspaper brings you full stories day after day—pictures and sufficient words.

Only the newspaper can bring you the full story as soon as your appetite is aroused. Fast, without delay.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocket or pocketbook.

but not the full story

UNTIL YOU READ these words you might not know that these girls are nurses . . . Navy nurses . . . and that they have been taking swimming lessons . . . and that the final lesson consists of jumping fully clothed into the water to learn how to swim under emergency conditions.

A picture, a headline, a brief announcement can whet your appetite for news, but cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

It takes words—sometimes many—to satisfy your curiosity about the who, what, when and where of any picture or headline. Words bring meaning, words bring understanding, words bring news. Newspapers bring news.

Only the newspaper brings you full stories day after day—pictures and sufficient words.

Only the newspaper can bring you the full story as soon as your appetite is aroused. Fast, without delay.

• This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air . . . or the brief headline here or there . . . may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocket or pocketbook.

Like the news, the ads themselves have the same important local quality. No other medium can match this quality.

Add to all this the fact that the newspapers reach everybody in town, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most powerful advertising medium.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

WASHINGTON (AP) — MacArthur will have to explain, if any explaining is done, why he chose to say "there is a solution" to the Korean War in a public speech instead of quietly telling President Truman, President-elect Eisenhower or the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

MacArthur could have communicated his views privately, in a letter or memo to the men directly responsible for the conduct of the war. Instead, he chose a public speech with its accompanying publicity.

As yet there has been no public explanation and presumably only MacArthur can do the explaining. Here is the sequence of events:

Early on Friday, Dec. 5, the news came from Korea that Eisenhower, fulfilling his campaign promise to go there to look for a solution, had ended his visit and didn't think there were any easy answers. This may have been a disappointment to anyone who thought Eisenhower could provide a quick way out.

That night MacArthur made his speech before the National Association of Manufacturers in New York. He said he felt sure there is a solution. Eisenhower had gone all the way to Korea for a solution but said he found no easy one.

This can't be interpreted as an attempt by MacArthur, after learning that Eisenhower was offering no golden hopes, to rush in immediately on a more affirmative note.

MacArthur had written his speech at least one day before news of Eisenhower's Korean visit broke. Copies of the MacArthur speech were released on Thursday, Dec. 4—to be published in morning papers of Dec. 6, since he would deliver it on the night of Dec. 5.

It probably had been prepared before Dec. 4 because the NAM is not in the habit of inviting its main speakers at the last minute.

But apparently only an accident in timing prevented MacArthur from getting nation-wide publicity as the man who had a solution at the very moment when the whole country was waiting to see if Eisenhower could come up with one.

If the Eisenhower people had waited just one more day—until sometime during Saturday, Dec. 6—to break the news of his Korean trip, it would have been MacArthur, speaking on the night of Dec. 5, who would have been given prominence in the morning papers of Dec. 6.

As it turned out, the news of the Eisenhower trip got so much prominence in the Dec. 6 morning papers, and required so much space, that MacArthur and his suggestion of a solution were buried on the inside pages of those papers which printed the story at all.

But MacArthur got back into the headlines quickly when Eisenhower, hearing that MacArthur says there is a solution, arranged to meet him and listen to his ideas. So MacArthur, who told Congress in the spring of 1951 that old soldiers just faded away, hasn't faded away after all.

McGinnis Gets Captain's Rank

Former Lt. John McGinnis, commander of Circleville's National Guard unit, has been promoted to the rank of captain.

McGinnis, head of this city's Company I, 166th Regimental Combat Team, received his captain's bars from Lt. Col. Vernon B. McMillen, executive officer of the infantry regiment.

Background for the promotion ceremony was the annual banquet given for the regiment's Company M, the unit based in Washington C. H.

Company commanders were invited to participate and the promotion for McGinnis was a highlight of the evening's program.

APPROXIMATELY 135 persons attended the banquet.

Many speakers praised the record of the home company, commanded by Lt. Don Wood.

McGinnis has become widely known for his enthusiastic efforts in leadership of the Circleville company and especially for his program to develop more officer material here from the ranks.

He succeeded Jack Clifton as commander of the local unit last Summer.

Judge Rules Newspaper Can Refuse Letter

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Ruling a newspaper has the right to refuse to publish any item, District Judge Elmer Adams Wednesday dismissed an Oklahoma County judge's $10,000 suit against the Tulsa Daily World because it did not print his letter to the editor.

But the plaintiff, Judge Baker Wall of Sallisaw, declared he would appeal to Oklahoma's Supreme Court and "fight for this principle to the highest court."

He had claimed "deep humiliation" because the World did not carry prior to last Oct. 23 a letter he had addressed to its "Voice of a Free People" Column, supporting Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, and defend President Truman's policies.

Wall explained he was "hurt" by the omission of his letter because he had told friends and neighbors to look for it in the paper.

The World, which backed the Republican national ticket during the campaign, printed Wall's letter on that date in its story about the judge's suit. It explained it did not purposely fail to print Wall's letter, that it had received many and had to make selections.

Service Casts 4 Millionth Line Of Type

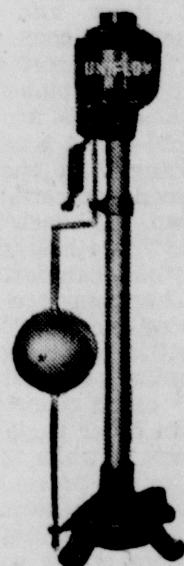

Galvin Wire Service, which provides this and four other Ohio daily newspapers with state, national and world news, this week activated its four millionth line of type.

GWS, which only Monday completed its first year of operation, utilizes the Teletypesetter principle of news transmission and services the Circleville Herald, Logan News, Van Wert Times-Bulletin, Washington C. H. Record-Herald and Wilmington News-Journal.

Each newspaper receives its news over leased telephone cables from an office in Circleville in the form of perforated paper tape which is run through line-casting machines where type is set automatically.

The aggregate of four million lines of type means:

1. A possible stack of type eight miles high.
2. A silver metal ribbon 124 miles long if each piece of type were laid end-to-end.
3. A mass of metal weighing about 280,000 pounds.
4. Reading matter which would take the average person about four solid months of eight-hour days to glean completely through.
5. Paper tape used in the process, if reeled out in one strip, extending from Columbus to Washington D. C.

MINING BY FIRE

THOUGH IT IS TOO early to predict how soon or to what extent it will be available for commercial use, synthetic gas has been produced by scientists of the Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the Alabama Power Co. by burning coal underground as it lies in its natural seams.

In effect, experiments for six years in "mining by fire" have demonstrated that a gas can be made from thin and rocky seams that could not be worked profitably by ordinary methods. This gas, in turn, can be converted into gasoline, other fuels and synthetic chemicals.

This is just another and fascinating instance of the application of science, spurred on by the increasing demands of national defense and a growing population, to get a maximum utility out of every national resource. Since June, 1951, only 1,500 tons of coal have been burned underground in these experiments, out of an estimated hundreds of millions of tons which are otherwise useless.

Conversion of this gasified coal into fuel and chemicals has to be made at the site of the experiments, because the gas cannot profitably be piped a long distance.

VENEZUELAN WARNING

SEIZURE OF POWER by the army in Venezuela, after an election which disclosed sweeping leftwing gains, illustrates a situation in South America which will require diplomatic finesse by Washington if it is to be contained.

Leftwingers of Venezuela would nationalize resources, principally oil and iron ore, now being developed by United States capital. Going to feared extremes, these radicals could kick out the Americans and adopt policies favorable to Russia. Guatemala, hard by the Panama Canal, is already communist dominated.

There is trouble over Bolivian tin, Chilean nitrates and other vital products of the Latin lands. Economies of those nations are badly administered, opening fertile fields for communist propaganda. The danger is in a damaging explosion on the southern flank of the United States at a time when it would be hard to meet.

The United States needs the best diplomacy in its history south of the Rio Grande. That diplomacy should be aimed at lifting standards of living so there can be strong governments in the capitalist tradition with dependable popular support.

The alternative is continued deterioration that can result in wholesale mischief.

These Days

The recent official murder of 11 Czechoslovakian Communists who were Jews represents no new departure in Marxian thinking. Marxism has always been anti-Jewish, as it has been anti-Catholic, anti-Protestant, anti-Moslem. Marxism is opposed to all forms of religion. When a Jew or a Christian or a Moslem is a Marxist, he disassociates himself from the faith of his fathers.

Although Karl Marx was born of Jewish parents who had been converted to Christianity, he was violently anti-Semitic. His article, "The Jewish Question," contains such a sentence as this:

"The emancipation of the Jews is in the last analysis the emancipation of mankind from Jewry."

It is true that a number of Jews were among the founders of the Bolshevik state in Russia. Stalin has killed them, until today only one remains in the Presidium, Lazar Kaganovitch.

During the Hitler-Stalin alliance period, Stalin got rid of his most capable minister of foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinov, because he was a Jew and therefore objectionable to Hitler.

In the philosophy of Marxism and in the Leninist-Stalinist interpretation of that philosophy, no individual can have a philosophical position, a religious faith, an approach to problems which differs from the declared attitude of the Soviet hierarchy. Stalin himself describes this position in his book, "Foundations of Leninism," which is the bible of Communists throughout the world:

"The Party must first of all constitute the vanguard of the working class. The Party must absorb all the best elements of the working class, their experience, their revolutionary spirit and their unbending devotion to the cause of the proletariat. But in order that it may really be the vanguard, the Party must be armed with a revolutionary theory, with a knowledge of the laws of the movement, with a knowledge of the laws of revolution.

"Without this it will be impotent to guide the struggle of the proletariat and to lead the proletariat. The Party cannot be a real Party if it limits itself to registering what the masses of the working class think or experience, if it drags along at the tail of the spontaneous movement, if it does not know how to overcome the inertia and the political indifference of the spontaneous movement, or if it cannot rise above the transient interests of the proletariat, if it cannot raise the masses to the level of the class interests of the proletariat. The Party must take its stand at the head of the working class, lead the proletariat and not trail behind the spontaneous movement..."

In order words, the Party sets the pace and rejects deviations. Those who cannot go along must be purged and, if necessary, killed. The process of purging and killing is continuous in Communist parties throughout the world.

When in 1929, Stalin decided that the American Communist Party must not be led by Jews, he actually arrested Jay Love stone and Ben Gitlow, then the leaders of that party in America, and held them prisoner until he could reorganize the American Communist Party.

Prevention Of Tooth Decay

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FOR thousands of years, people have been suffering from cavities in their teeth, and for a long time scientists have been examining them and asking "Why?" They have come up with many and varied theories.

One of the most plausible answers is that cavities are caused when starches and sugars are regularly caught in the teeth, becoming food for certain bacteria known as lactobacilli acidophilus. These bacteria produce acids which can destroy the enamel or hard surface of the tooth, forming a cavity.

Since cavities can be so painful and sometimes expensive, and may even cause considerable discomfort in other parts of the body, it is worth while thinking about some way to prevent them. Here is one test that was made with a group of 500 university students. These people were instructed to brush their teeth within ten minutes after eating any food. A second group of students was told to follow their usual habits.

After two years, both groups were carefully examined, and it was found that a significant number of the students who brushed their teeth after eating had fewer cavities than those who did not. Brushing the teeth after eating seemed to reduce the amount of starches and sugars in the mouth, and thus less acid was formed.

Another method found helpful is to apply sodium fluoride solution to the teeth and gums. This solution makes the enamel harder and more resistant to loss of calcium. The sodium fluoride can be applied by your dentist at yearly intervals. Cavities have been reduced an average of 40 per cent by this method. It has been found. The best ages for such treatments are at three, seven, 10 and 13 years.

Tests have also shown that when this fluoride is added to the community drinking water, the amount of cavities in the children can be reduced almost 33 per cent on the average.

Fluoride drugs and intelligent tooth brushing can reduce our cavities, but for best results we must start early and keep at it.

R. S. C.: I have been suffering from bleeding gums. What is the cause, and what should I do for it?

Answer: Bleeding of the gums is due to lack of stimulation of the tissues and often to the accumulation of tartar around the teeth. The teeth should be scraped by the dentist regularly every six months and possibly every three months for a short time. They should be brushed daily and the gums massaged.

You should chew plenty of hard foods, such as crusts of bread, toast, and celery, and get plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

Granery will forward to SACB the names of organizations allegedly to be working openly or secretly on behalf of Russia. Then SACB, after a semi-judicial and open hearing, will decide whether the McGranery indictment is supported by the evidence.

After a brilliant formal wedding, Roger and Emily Field settle in a fine old home on Beacon Hill, Boston. The gift of Emily's rich, eccentric grandmother, Forbes, Brian Collins and David Solomon, two firm associates of Field, are frequent callers here. Reaching home, weary and spent one evening, Field finds his wife seated alone with Solomon. Silently he resents the presence of this suave, handsome, charming intruder in his home. Solomon had accompanied Emily to a family dinner party during her husband's absence from the city. He had dared to kiss her at the end of the evening and when she admonishes him for this bold act, he merely laughs at her "innocence." Young cousin Priscilla, a guest in the Field house, reveals that David had often called on her at her parents' home down the Cape. Emily cautions David against trifling with this child and very naively he accuses her of jealousy. Overwhelmed by Solomon's personality, Priscilla demands that he be included in a weekend New Year party which she and the Fields and some friends will attend at Hollyhock Hill.

CHAPTER TWELVE
IT WAS not until they waked the next morning, with the sun streaming into their room, that Emily, cuddling closer to her husband, smilingly reminded him that they were supposed to be the chaperones of the occasion, and that they had not even made a pretense of finding what the others were up to before they tumbled off to bed themselves.

It was natural that the combination of a long, noisy train trip, a sleigh ride through crisp, cold air, a warm house and a hearty supper should have made them sleepy and that their slumber should have been peaceful and prolonged. She was astonished to learn that everyone else had gone skating the night before in the moonlight and had stayed up for hours, entranced by David's execution of fancy figures; also that intermittent tobogganing had already been going on that morning too. She hastened to get bundled up and go outdoors herself; and from then, until the sun went down behind the foothills in a blaze of rose, radiantly reflected on the distant snow-covered mountains, she did not come into the house at all except for dinner. Then she was amazed to find that she was already tired and sleepy again.

"I must have been using a lot of muscles that I don't, ordinarily," she said by way of self-excuse, bending over to rub her shin in order to prove her point.

"Nonsense! You use all those muscles, every day, climbing up and down Joy Street on your constitutional!" David answered. "You don't mean to say you're going to waken on the skating again tonight?"

"I'm not wakening on anything," she answered indignantly. "But I don't see why I should keep on doing things, when I'm tired. Roger's tired too."

"Oh, of course, in that case! But we were all hoping you'd join us tonight. We're going to have a small bonfire, so you wouldn't be cold. And I can take down a bench. You could sit on that and rest if you found you couldn't keep up with us."

"You don't need to talk as if I were a thousand years old. Of course I'll come skating, if everyone else is going. I didn't know everyone was going last night."

"I did open the door a crack and tell you so," Brian interposed. "But you must have been sound asleep already. Myself, I just stumble around on skates. Why don't you and Roger and I go down to the pond for just a little while and then come back to the house and get our well-earned rest, leaving the others who don't work as hard as we do to their childish pastimes?"

She looked at him gratefully; there was really something very pleasant about Brian, after you got to know him. But his kindly suggestion did not serve to counterbalance David's taunt. Determined to show him that she could stand up under long hours and violent exercise as well as anyone, she went early to the pond, and was already gliding quietly over it, hand in hand with Roger, when Priscilla and David came down the slope which led to it. The moon was shining brightly and, in the light of it, Priscilla's scarlet-clad figure stood out with almost startling brilliance against the snow. David had his arm around her, presumably to steady her over the slippery surface and steep descent, and they were looking at each other and laughing. Brian, who, as he himself remarked, "simply stumbled around on skates," made his way clumsily over to Roger and Emily and nodded toward the pair on the hill. "But those two are certainly making a go of it, aren't they?"

"Looks that way," agreed Roger. "Here, you and Emily have a try. You'll find she's a good teacher—in fact, she taught me on Spy Pond years ago. Not that she gives what you'd call a dazzling performance, but it's pretty smooth, at that. She'll have you in better form before you know it. Talk about making a go of it! NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 — In the Truman administration's belated attempt to expose and eliminate Communist influence at Washington and throughout the country, Attorney General James P. McGranery is preparing a new drive against the insidious "fronts" which have enlisted so many respectable and patriotic Americans in Stalin's dirty work.

The Department of Justice compiled a comprehensive list of more than 100 of these organizations during the regime of former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

But the compilation was made in a hurried, hysterical and slipshod manner, largely to answer Congressional charges that the administration had been indifferent to this menace. It was a counteroffensive to the Hiss-Chambers revelations.

NEW LIST — This arbitrary method of Red-listing dangerous groups was condemned by the Supreme Court in a recent un-noticed but far-reaching decision. When the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee of New York contended in court that it had been booked by the D of J without any hearing as to its status, the high tribunal condemned the government's procedure.

As a result, McGranery is making out a new list, and will create an administrative board which will hear any complaints by alleged "front" units that they have been listed wrongfully. In order to comply with the Supreme Court's ruling, the FBI and other protective agencies are now combing the Communist "underground" as it has never been ransacked in the past.

DIFFICULT TASK — Unfortunately, the task of identifying and labelling and prosecuting Stalin's secret organizations has become more difficult because of the long delay in attacking the problem.

During the period when Truman was ridiculing the Hiss investigation on Capitol Hill as a "red herring," they have had plenty of time to disperse, to adopt a new false front and to hide their tracks.

Many of the liaison men with Moscow have escaped to Mexico, Caribbean and South American countries, where they have setup cells of anti-American activity and propaganda. These same areas were fertile fields for Hitler's agents before 1939.

SACB RULING — McGranery cannot release his new compilation, however, until the Subversive Activities Control Board hands down a final and official decision that the American Communist Party is controlled by and responsive to the Politburo in the Kremlin. Until then, there will be no judicial procedure or effective machinery for defanging both active and merely sympathetic Reds in the United States.

After a stormy nine months' hearing, an SACB panel ruled in late October that the Communist Party in this country was an active agency which took orders and funds from Stalin. But this ruling cannot become valid until it has been okayed by the full board, which is headed by Peter Campbell Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y.

In view of the damaging evidence submitted to the panel by government investigators and lawyers, full approval is expected soon.

COMPREHENSIVE — Once SACB has acted, there will be a definite and comprehensive check, perhaps for the first time, on both the central Red group, as well as its social, economic and philanthropic "fronts."

All these units will be required to register and to make periodic reports on their financial contributions and expenditures, which will enable the federal police to maintain a vigilant watch on the Red network's ramifications. They can be penalized severely for the slightest violation of the law.

JUDICIAL — When the new method comes into force Mc-

Granery will forward to SACB the names of organizations allegedly to be working openly or secretly on behalf of Russia. Then SACB, after a semi-judicial and open hearing, will decide whether the McGranery indictment is supported by the evidence.

Thus, seven long years after Russia's subversive operations against and within the United States were recognized and exposed, we will have in operation an effective but wholly judicial and American system for checking the Communists within our borders.

Travel expert Horace Sutton reports that the experienced golfer in India never dreams of playing a round without engaging both a fore caddy and an aft caddy. The aft one totes your bag while the fore one stands ahead of you on the fairway to protect your ball from predatory birds that have a habit of swooping down and carrying balls back to the young in their nests. A good fore caddy runs out the minute a ball comes to rest, waving his arms and howling like a banshee (very comforting to foursomes putting on nearby greens). He then drops a red cloth over your ball to keep the birds away. A few extra rupees slipped to the fore caddy when your opponent is looking the other way will assure you of considerably better lies every time he whips off the red cloth—Ah, to be in India when the wild birds are flying!

FOR thousands of years, people have been suffering from cavities in their teeth, and for a long time scientists have been examining them and asking "Why?" They have come up with many and varied theories.

One of the most plausible answers is that cavities are caused when starches and sugars are regularly caught in the teeth, becoming food for certain bacteria known as lactobacillus acidophilus. These bacteria produce acids which can destroy the enamel or hard surface of the tooth, forming a cavity.

Since cavities can be so painful and sometimes expensive, and may even cause considerable discomfort in other parts of the body, it is worth while thinking about some way to prevent them.

Here is one test that was made with a group of 500 university students. These people were instructed to brush their teeth within ten minutes after eating any food. A second group of students was told to follow their usual habits.

After two years, both groups were carefully examined, and it was found that a significant number of the students who brushed their teeth after eating had fewer cavities than those who did not. Brushing the teeth after eating seemed to reduce the amount of starches and sugars in the mouth, and thus less acid was formed.

SYNOPSIS
After a brilliant formal wedding, Roger and Emily Field settle in a fine old house on Beacon Hill, Boston. The gift of Emily's rich, eccentric grandmother, Mrs. Field, is frequent callers here. Reaching home, weary and spent one evening, Emily finds her wife seated alone with Solomon. Slightly he resents the presence of this suave, handsome, charming intruder in his home. Solomon had accompanied Emily to a family dinner party during her husband's absence from the city. He had dared to kiss her at the end of the evening and when she admonishes him for this bold act he merely laughs at her "innocence." Young cousin Priscilla, a guest in the Field house, reveals that David had often called on her at her parents' home down the Cape. Emily cautions David against trifling with this child and very naively she accuses her of jealousy. Overwhelmed by Solomon's personality, Priscilla demands that he be included in a weekend New Year party which she and the Fields and some friends will attend at Hollyhock Hill.

CHAPTER TWELVE
IT WAS not until they waked the next morning, with the sun streaming into their room, that Emily, cuddling closer to her husband, smilingly reminded him that they were supposed to be the chaperones of the occasion, and that they had not even made a pretense of finding what the others were up to before they tumbled off to bed themselves.

It was natural that the combination of a long, noisy train trip, a sleigh ride through crisp, cold air, a warm house and a hearty supper should have made them sleepy and that their slumber should have been peaceful and prolonged. She was astonished to learn that everyone else had gone skating the night before in the moonlight and had stayed up for hours, entranced by David's execution of fancy figures; also that intermittent tobogganing had already been going on that morning too. She hastened to get bundled up and go outdoors herself; and from then, until the sun went down behind the foothills in a blaze of rose, radiantly reflected on the distant snow-covered mountains, she did not come into the house at all except for dinner. Then she was amazed to find that she was already tired and sleepy again.

"I must have been using a lot of muscles that I don't, ordinarily," she said by way of self-explanation, bending over to rub her shin in order to prove her point.

"Nonsense! You use all those muscles, every day, climbing up and down Joy Street on your constitutional!" David answered. "You don't mean to say you're going to waken on the skating again tonight?"

MINING BY FIRE
THOUGH IT IS TOO early to predict how soon or to what extent it will be available for commercial use, synthetic gas has been produced by scientists of the Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the Alabama Power Co. by burning coal underground as it lies in its natural seams.

In effect, experiments for six years in "mining by fire" have demonstrated that a gas can be made from thin and rocky seams that could not be worked profitably by ordinary methods. This gas, in turn, can be converted into gasoline, other fuels and synthetic chemicals.

This is just another and fascinating instance of the application of science, spurred on by the increasing demands of national defense and a growing population, to get a maximum utility out of every national resource. Since June, 1951, only 1,500 tons of coal have been burned underground in these experiments, out of an estimated hundreds of millions of tons which are otherwise useless.

Conversion of this gasified coal into fuel and chemicals has to be made at the site of the experiments, because the gas cannot profitably be piped a long distance.

VENEZUELAN WARNING
SEIZURE OF POWER by the army in Venezuela, after an election which disclosed sweeping leftwing gains, illustrates a situation in South America which will require diplomatic finesse by Washington if it is to be contained.

Leftwingers of Venezuela would nationalize resources, principally oil and iron ore, now being developed by United States capital. Going to feared extremes, these radicals could kick out the Americans and adopt policies favorable to Russia. Guatemala, hard by the Panama Canal, is already communist dominated.

There is trouble over Bolivian tin, Chilean nitrates and other vital products of the Latin lands. Economies of those nations are badly administered, opening fertile fields for communist propaganda. The danger is in a damaging explosion on the southern flank of the United States at a time when it would be hard to meet.

The United States needs the best diplomacy in its history south of the Rio Grande. That diplomacy should be aimed at lifting standards of living so there can be strong governments in the capitalist tradition with dependable popular support.

The alternative is continued deterioration that can result in wholesale mischief.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 — In the Truman administration's belated attempt to expose and eliminate Communist influence at Washington and throughout the country, Attorney General James P. McGranery is preparing a new drive against the insidious "fronts" which have enlisted so many respectable and patriotic Americans in Stalin's dirty work.

The Department of Justice compiled a comprehensive list of more than 100 of these organizations during the regime of former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

But the compilation was made in a hurried, hysterical and slipshod manner, largely to answer Congressional charges that the administration had been indifferent to this menace. It was a counteroffensive to the Hiss-Chambers revelations.

NEW LIST — This arbitrary method of Red-listing dangerous groups was condemned by the Supreme Court in a recent unnoted but far-reaching decision. When the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee of New York contended in court that it had been booked by the D of J without any hearing as to its status, the high tribunal condemned the government's procedure.

As a result, McGranery is making out a new list, and will create an administrative board which will hear any complaints by alleged "front" units that they have been listed wrongfully.

In order to comply with the Supreme Court's ruling, the FBI and other protective agencies are now combing the Communist "underground" as it has never been ransacked in the past.

DIFFICULT TASK — Unfortunately, the task of identifying and labelling and prosecuting Stalin's secret organizations has become more difficult because of the long delay in attacking the problem.

During the period when Truman was ridiculing the Hiss investigation on Capitol Hill as a "red herring," they have had plenty of time to disperse, to adopt a new false front and to hide their tracks.

Many of the liaison men with Moscow have escaped to Mexico, Caribbean and South American countries, where they have setup cells of anti-American activity and propaganda. These same areas were fertile fields for Hitler's agents before 1939.

SACB RULING — McGranery cannot release his new compilation, however, until the Subversive Activities Control Board hands down a final and official decision that the American Communist Party is controlled by and responsive to the Politburo in the Kremlin. Until then, there will be no judicial procedure or effective machinery for defanging both active and merely sympathetic Reds in the United States.

After a stormy nine months' hearing, an SACB panel ruled in late October that the Communist Party in this country was an active agency which took orders and funds from Stalin. But this ruling cannot become valid until it has been okayed by the full board, which is headed by Peter Campbell Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y.

In view of the damaging evidence submitted to the panel by government investigators and lawyers, full approval is expected soon.

COMPREHENSIVE — Once SACB has acted, there will be a definite and comprehensive check, perhaps for the first time, on both the central Red group, as well as its social, economic and philanthropic "fronts."

All these units will be required to register and to make periodic reports on their financial contributions and expenditures, which will enable the federal police to maintain a vigilant watch on the Red network's ramifications. They can be penalized severely for the slightest violation of the law.

JUDICIAL — When the new method comes into force McGranery will forward to SACB the names of organizations alleged to be working openly or secretly on behalf of Russia. Then SACB, after a semi-judicial and open hearing, will decide whether the McGranery indictment is supported by the evidence.

Thus, seven long years after Russia's subversive operations against and within the United States were recognized and exposed, we will have in operation an effective but wholly judicial and American system for checking the Communists within our borders.

CONFUSION — It has frequently been charged that the United States has been confronted with "crisis after crisis" since 1933. That gloomy word seemed to be a favorite with Roosevelt- Truman bureaucrats and politicians. It looks as if Eisenhower will banish it from the federal dictionary, however.

When the AFL-CIO labor chiefs recently conferred with him in New York City, the President-elect read the statement they planned to issue after the meeting.

"I note," he smiled, "that you say I am taking office 'at a moment of crisis.' I would prefer that you used the phrase, 'at a moment of confusion.'"

Who said that Ike wasn't a "politician?"

The aft one totes your bag while the fore one stands ahead of you on the fairway to protect your ball from predatory birds that have a habit of swooping down and carrying balls back to the young in their nests. Early Silver Is Discussed At Daughters Of 1812 Meet

Mrs. Howard Rodee Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Howard D. Rodee of Columbus spoke on "Early American Silver", at the annual officers tea and guest day meeting of the Major John Boggs Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, held Thursday.

Mrs. Sterley Croman, president, opened the meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt of N. Court St.

During the meeting it was voted to send a money donation to schools supported by the national organization and to send a gift certificate to the Veterans hospital in Chillicothe.

Members also contributed Christmas gifts for the State scholarship girls in the School of the Ozarks.

Mrs. Orion King, program chairman, introduced two state officers, Mrs. Russell Bowers of Millersport, state chaplain and Mrs. G. Reed Grimsley of Zanesville, state recording secretary.

Mrs. King introduced Mrs. Rodee, who talked on old silver and also displayed several pieces from her collection. The silver she had represented the craft of early American silver from the first wrought by the Pilgrims to the early 19th Century.

The early silver is divided into two categories, the New England, and that made in Virginia. What Mrs. Rodee showed was coin silver, most of which was made in Boston. She stated that only people of wealth could own silver and it was mostly patterned after that made in England.

She said that the first silver made in this country consisted of cups presented to churches, for use in communion. She also mentioned that the first silversmith of whom there was a record was John Mansfield, who made the first chalice given to the Old North church and Paul Revere, father of the famous Paul Revere, who was an early silversmith.

She continued that colonial silversmiths had a fine sense of proportion and appreciation of simple design. And she closed by saying, "These lovely creations of old silver form a traditional background of gracious American living, then and now."

Elinor Williams' Teen Tips

It's a toughie. There's no doubt about it—the problem, "When is time to go home?"

Many a battle wages in homes of high schoolers about date "deadlines" and many letters to this column begin like this: "My mother and father expect me to be home at 12 o'clock after the dance. I don't see why I can't stay out until two or three o'clock."

The fact is that some girls think that going home on time makes them too young and childish. Forget it! Your date will take you home at the right time and think nothing of it, if you act as if it's the normal time to do—as it is—and your date-rating will be OK.

Boys respect girls who stick to their time-table, because girls who can stay out all hours aren't nice girls. It's obvious to everybody that if you stay out THAT late, perhaps you spend the time in a parked car or in night spots that aren't the right places for high schoolers.

Staying out too late makes the fun of the date wear a little thin and cheapens a girl who does it.

It's up to you, girls, to do your own time-keeping and you're the one to suggest leaving for home. Do it quietly and firmly, saying, "Well, all good things must end—" or something similar. If your date lingers, just put on your coat and head for the door. When he sees that you really mean it, what can he do except go with you?

This is another example of the

Miss Mary Allen received a bonus for 21 years continuous service; Mrs. Lena May and Miss Maxine Niles, for 15 years service; Mrs. Margaret Ater, 14 years service; Beverly Stevens, Mable Imbler and Rosalee Mettler, one year, and Marilyn Arledge, six months.

Annual Daughters Day dinner was held Thursday evening in the Mecca restaurant by the Daughters of Union Veterans. A turkey dinner was served to 17 members.

Mrs. C. O. Kerns, president, was in charge of devotions and Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, patriotic instructor, was in charge of the program. She read a Christmas prayer and told of customs of Christmas. Mrs. Kerns read the story of nativity as recorded by St. Luke.

Elinor Williams' Teen Tips

It's a toughie. There's no doubt about it—the problem, "When is time to go home?"

Many a battle wages in homes of high schoolers about date "deadlines" and many letters to this column begin like this: "My mother and father expect me to be home at 12 o'clock after the dance. I don't see why I can't stay out until two or three o'clock."

The fact is that some girls think that going home on time makes them too young and childish. Forget it! Your date will take you home at the right time and think nothing of it, if you act as if it's the normal thing to do—as it is—and your date-rater will be OK.

Boys respect girls who stick to their time-table, because girls who can stay out all hours aren't nice girls. It's obvious to everybody that if you stay out THAT late, perhaps you spend the time in a parked car or in night spots that aren't the right places for high schoolers.

Staying out too late makes the fun of the date wear a little thin and cheapens a girl who does it.

It's up to you, girls, to do your own time-keeping and you're the one to suggest leaving for home. Do it quietly and firmly, saying, "Well, all good things must end—" or something similar. If your date lingers, just put on your coat and head for the door. When he sees that you really mean it, what can he do except go with you? This is another example of the

Mr. and Mrs. Henkle were presented a gift from the employees by Miss Niles. Santa Claus then distributed exchange gifts to each employee.

Christmas bonuses were distributed to 21 employees, who had served six months or more. Miss Mary Allen received a bonus for 21 years continuous service; Mrs. Lena May and Miss Maxine Niles, for 15 years service; Beverly Stevens, Mable Imler and Rosalee Mettler, one year, and Marilyn Arledge, six months.

Annual Daughters Day Dinner Given By DUV Members

Annual Daughters Day dinner was held Thursday evening in the Mecca restaurant by the Daughters of Union Veterans. A turkey dinner was served to 17 members.

Mrs. C. O. Kerns, president, was in charge of devotions and Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, patriotic instructor, was in charge of the program. She read a Christmas prayer and told of customs of Christmas. Mrs. Kerns read the story of nativity as recorded by St. Luke.

Readings were given as follows: "Christ's Crib," by Miss Laura Mader; "Among the Mistletoe," by Miss Sophia Parks; "Christmas Plays," by Mrs. B. M. Wignell; "Gift Giving," by Mrs. C. E. Webb; "Carols," by Mrs. James Pierce; "Stockings," by Mrs. H. G. Bausum; "Feasting," by Mrs. James Trimmer, and "Christmas Cards" by Mrs. James Carpenter.

Mrs. Pierce played a piano solo, "Star of the East," and Mrs. Tolbert read, "Manger in the Heart" and discussed the three M's of Christmas, Mary, motherhood and majesty.

She also reminded the listeners that Christmas seals were originated in Denmark in 1904 by a postal clerk to raise money for charity, and the idea was adopted by a private organization in the United States in 1907.

The program closed with group singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Pierce.

Mrs. Frank Webbe and Mrs. W. E. Pickens were in charge of the table decorations and presentation of gifts.

The table, which was covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a crystal bowl of ornaments, surrounded by evergreens and red berries. Evergreens extended the length of the table, where miniature Santa Claus, sleigh and reindeer and tall red tapers were used.

Jesus Disperses Fear

HE TOLD HIS FOLLOWERS, "IT IS I; BE NOT AFRAID."

Scripture—Matthew 14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHAT WOULD life be like if we could get rid of our fears? We are usually afraid of so many things—illness, death, accidents, loss of money, loss of family, loneliness—and many, many more things.

Faith is what we must cultivate. Faith won't ward off evils, we know that from our own and others' experience. Faith didn't save the poor Jews who were victims of Nazi brutalities. It did, however, help them face their fate with courage and serenity.

So has it been with many more human beings all over the earth. They may not be able to avert evils, but they learn to meet them with faith, courage and integrity.

Jesus preached faith. "Thy faith hath made thee whole," He said time and again. He taught faith in this lesson, although the story with which the chapter begins is a brutal one in which a fine man met his death because he dared to speak out against wrong doing. His influence is still strong in the modern world, while those of his enemies passion for them and he healed their sick.

When evening was come His disciples came to him and said that it would be well to send the multitude away, so that they could go to a village and buy food. Jesus told the disciples to give the people food, and when they said they had only five loaves of bread and two fishes, He said, "Bring them hither to Me."

They did so, and He took the food, blessed and broke it and gave food enough to His disciples to feed the multitude so that not only were all satisfied, but there were 12 baskets filled with fragments left over. About 5,000 people were in that multitude.

Jesus then told His disciples to get into a ship and sail for the other side of the Sea of Galilee, and He would dismiss the multitude. Even as you and I, there were times when our Lord felt He must get away from the crowds, and even from His close friends, and commune alone with His Father. He went up onto the mountain to pray.

The ship in which the disciples stand out in our minds as symbols of evil.

John the Baptist had spoken openly of his disapproval of Herod's licentious life, and been put in prison for it. Herod, however, did not want to kill John because the people thought he was a prophet and Herod feared the people.

Herod gave a great feast on his birthday and his wife, Herodias, asked her daughter, Salome, to dance before the king and his guests, and if she pleased him and he offered to reward her to say that she wanted the head of John the Baptist handed to her on a platter.

Salome did please the probably half-drunk king, and he offered her anything her heart might desire. She obeyed her mother and although Herod did not want to kill John, he felt he could not go back on his promise. So Salome was the recipient of the horrible severed head of a man on a platter or charger.

When Jesus' disciples heard of it, they took John's body and buried it, and then went to Jesus and told Him what had happened.

Jesus must have felt that He wanted to get away from everyone and pray. He took ship to a desert place, but the people heard of it and they gathered in great multitudes. He felt complained was attacked by strong winds and the men feared they would be drowned. Toward morning, they saw Jesus walking toward them on the water, and they were afraid, thinking He was a spirit. But He said, "Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid."

Filled with comfort and faith, Peter called to Him, "Lord, if it be Thou, bid me come unto Thee on the water."

The Lord said, "Come," and Peter started walking on the waves, but they were high and strong, and suddenly his faith deserted him, he was afraid and called, "Lord, save me." "And immediately Jesus stretched forth His hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?"

If Peter had kept his eyes on Jesus and had cast out his fear, he would have been safe, but he allowed doubt to overcome him, fear to take away his faith.

Don't we all succumb to fear and doubt? How many of us miss golden opportunities because we allow our fears to breed doubt, and our courage to ooze away, and so the chance slips by.

"And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased. They that were in the ship came and worshipped Him, saying, Of a truth Thou art the Son of God!"

Some Changes In Grid Rules Are Advanced

Sports Writers Urge End To Platoon Plan, OK Unlimited Subs

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When the National Football Rules Committee meets next month, many gridiron observers believe it should:

1. Rule out the two-platoon system.
2. Allow unlimited substitution.
3. Clarify the pass interference rule so as to (A) inflict fewer penalties on doubtful interference and (B) protect the receiver from roughness because interference isn't called.
4. Do away with the so-called "sucker shift."
5. Eliminate the dangerous "helmet block."
6. Return the goal posts to the goal line.
7. Permit running with recovered fumbles.
8. Do away with fumbles entirely.
9. Require a fifth official to watch for downfield infractions.
10. Eliminate a couple of the officials who keep getting in the way or at least take their whistles away.

IT'S ALL VERY simple. All the rules-makers have to do is figure out the wording of new rules to bring about all these things and a few more.

Actually these 10 points take in the most frequent suggestions offered by sports writers replying to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire.

There were many others, but there also was a solid bloc voting to "leave the rules alone."

By far the greatest number of proposals concerned substitution and opinion was almost equally divided as to whether the rules should be tightened to end the platoon system or should provide for unlimited substitution as in pro football.

The publicity given this season to shifts which tend to draw the opposition offside and which, according to some coaches, are designed to do just that, brought a demand for a clearer definition of the illegal shift.

Many experts agreed that pass interference is the hardest penalty to call and resulted in more rumbles. One school held that the defenders are "clobbering" receivers and getting away with it while another insisted that interference is called too often in questionable circumstances.

The rash of "fumbleitis" during the past season brought fresh demands that players be allowed to

Pacific Coast Likes Big 10 In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference wants to continue its Rose Bowl romance with the Big Ten.

The relationship, the coasters inferred, has been wonderful in all its phases — except, of course, on each New Year's Day.

The series in this respect has been more disappointing to the coast since 1947.

Six times the coast has aimed for victory and each time it has been repulsed. Illinois and Michigan did it twice apiece. Same happened when Northwestern and Ohio State appeared in the bowl.

But the coasters want to keep the series.

The Big Ten won't get around to polling its members until next May and a tug-of-war is reported behind the scenes to line up sides on the issue.

Some sources in Chicago have it that if a vote were to be taken today, Iowa, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue would oppose continuation of the series, and Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio State would be for it.

run with the ball after recovering fumbles and for other changes.

ONE PROPOSAL was to rule out fumbles entirely. "A team would retain possession at the point of the fumble," he wrote. "The roughest play in football comes when a team tries to steal the ball. And, after all, what's the point of the game—fineness in offense and defense, or how rough can we get?"

The replies showed increasing concern over unnecessary roughness and the frequent brawls during games. There was a strong demand, mostly from the Southwest, for abolition of the "helmet block"—when a blocker lowers his head and rams his hard plastic helmet into a would-be tackler's face.

Roughing kickers and passers and changing the fair catch rule to provide better protection for punt receivers also were cited.

One writer proposed banning the use of forearms and elbows in blocking, returning to the old shoulder block. Others thought the rule limiting the use of forearms wasn't being enforced strictly enough while several said that mandatory expulsion from the game was too severe a penalty for illegal use of the arms.

Ford Takes Lead In Miami Open

MIAMI (AP)—Doug Ford, a young pro from Harrison, N. Y., who learned the secrets of Miami golf courses when he was stationed here as a Coast Guardsman during the war, took a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $10,000 Miami Open tournament today.

While the favorites floundered in a 26-mile-an-hour wind that raked the 7,010-yard Miami Springs course, Ford carved a steady three-under-par 67 in Thursday's first 18-hole stretch.

North Central Group Seen In Crackdown

CHICAGO (AP)—The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, powerful 19-state accrediting agency, soon plans to crack down on violators of its athletic de-emphasis program.

Norman Burns, secretary of the group's Commission on Colleges and Universities, said today "vigorous action" is planned shortly in "one or two cases" which he declined to identify.

Burns said the commission, enforcement body of the association, was "surprised" that the University of Oklahoma was reported this week to be looking for an escape from the North Central's ban on subsidizing athletes.

It was rumored the Sooner school may quit the Big Seven and join the Southwest Conference which operates under a different accrediting association, although Sooner President Dr. George L. Cross has said the school would remain in the North Central regardless of athletic affiliation.

Dr. Cross said Thursday it was "utterly out of the question" for the Sooners to bolt the Big Seven.

Oklahoma Football Coach Bud Wilkinson commented that "we'll just have to wait for the conference (Big Seven) to confer with North Central."

This gave significance to Burns' remark that:

"Something may be going on in the Big Seven in way of talking compliance with our code on a conference level."

Some Changes In Grid Rules Are Advanced

Sports Writers Urge End To Platoon Plan, OK Unlimited Subs

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When the National Football Rules Committee meets next month, many gridiron observers believe it should:

1. Rule out the two-platoon system.
2. Allow unlimited substitution.
3. Clarify the pass interference rule so as to (A) inflict fewer penalties on doubtful interference and (B) protect the receiver from roughness because interference isn't called.
4. Do away with the so-called "sucker shift."
5. Eliminate the dangerous "helmet block."
6. Return the goal posts to the goal line.
7. Permit running with recovered fumbles.
8. Do away with fumbles entirely.
9. Require a fifth official to watch for downfield infractions.
10. Eliminate a couple of the officials who keep getting in the way or at least take their whistles away.

IT'S ALL VERY simple. All the rules-makers have to do is figure out the wording of new rules to bring about all these things and a few more.

Actually these 10 points take in the most frequent suggestions offered by sports writers replying to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire.

There were many others, but there also was a solid block voting to "leave the rules alone."

By far the greatest number of proposals concerned substitution and opinion was almost equally divided as to whether the rules should be tightened to end the platoon system or should provide for unlimited substitution as in pro football.

The publicity given this season to shifts which tend to draw the opposition offside and which, according to some coaches, are designed to do just that, brought a demand for a clearer definition of the illegal shift.

Many experts agreed that pass interference is the hardest penalty to call and resulted in more run-backs. One school held that the defenders are "clobbering" receivers and getting away with it while another insisted that interference is called too often in questionable circumstances.

The rash of "fumbleitis" during the past season brought fresh demands that players be allowed to

Pacific Coast Likes Big 10 In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference wants to continue its Rose Bowl romance with the Big Ten.

The relationship, the coasters inferred, has been wonderful in all its phases — except, of course, on each New Year's Day.

The series in this respect has been more than disappointing to the coast since 1947.

Six times the coast has aimed for victory and each time it has been repulsed. Illinois and Michigan did it twice apiece. Same happened when Northwestern and Ohio State appeared in the bowl.

But the coasters want to keep up the series.

The Big Ten won't get around to polling its members until next May and a tug-of-war is reported behind the scenes to line up sides on the issue.

Some sources in Chicago have it that if a vote were to be taken today, Iowa, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue would oppose continuation of the series, and Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio State would be for it.

run with the ball after recovering fumbles and for other changes.

ONE PROPOSAL was to rule out fumbles entirely. "A team would retain possession at the point of the fumble," he wrote. "The rougher play in football comes when a team tries to steal the ball. And, after all, what's the point of the game—finest in offense and defense, or how rough can we get?"

The replies showed increasing concern over unnecessary roughness and the frequent brawls during games. There was a strong demand, mostly from the Southwest, for abolition of the "helmet block"—when a blocker lowers his head and rams his hard plastic helmet into a would-be tackler's face.

Roughing kickers and passers and changing the fair catch rule to provide better protection for punt receivers also were cited.

One writer proposed banning the use of forearms and elbows in blocking, returning to the old shoulder block. Others thought the rule limiting the use of forearms wasn't being enforced strictly enough while several said that mandatory expulsion from the game was too severe a penalty for illegal use of the arms.

Ford Takes Lead In Miami Open

MIAMI (AP)—Doug Ford, a young pro from Harrison, N. Y., who learned the secrets of Miami golf courses when he was stationed here as a Coast Guardsman during the war, took a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $10,000 Miami Open tournament today.

While the favorites floundered in a 26-mile-an-hour wind that raked the 7,010-yard Miami Spring course, Ford carved a steady three-under-par 67 in Thursday's first 18-hole stretch.

North Central Group Seen In Crackdown

CHICAGO (AP)—The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, powerful 19-state accrediting agency, soon plans to crack down on violators of its athletic de-emphasis program.

Norman Burns, secretary of the group's Commission on Colleges and Universities, said today "vigorous action" is planned shortly in "one or two cases" which he declined to identify.

Burns said the commission, enforcement body of the association, was "surprised" that the University of Oklahoma was reported this week to be looking for an escape from the North Central's ban on subsidizing athletes.

It was rumored the Sooner school may quit the Big Seven and join the Southwest Conference which operates under a different accrediting association, although Sooner President Dr. George L. Cross has said the school would remain in the North Central regardless of athletic affiliation.

Dr. Cross said Thursday it was "utterly out of the question" for the Sooners to bolt the Big Seven.

Oklahoma Football Coach Bud Wilkinson commented that "we'll just have to wait for the conference (Big Seven) to confer with North Central."

This gave significance to Burns remark that: "Something may be going on in the Big Seven in way of talking compliance with our code on a conference level."

Browns Eye Tell-Tale Duel With Giants
CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Browns, who treat the New York Giants as a postman handles a ticking package, wind up their practice today for Sunday's game with the New Yorkers.

Despite a flock of injuries suffered by key Giants, Coach Paul Brown expects nothing but trouble as his Cleveland team goes after the Polo Grounds victory which would give them the American Division crown in pro football's National League.

Championships are no novelty to the mighty Browns, but then neither is trouble from the doughty Giants. In splitting six games with New York, the Browns have scored only four touchdowns.

"The Giants are the best team we ever played," Brown said, "and we are in for a tough afternoon."

"We feel the Giants would be right up there in contention if their quarterbacks had not been injured," the gridiron savant added, "and we expect Charley Conerly to be in there working against us."

Conerly was one of the quarterbacks hurt as the Giants lost five games and a chance at the division title. Coach Steve Owen hopes the passer will recover by Sunday from a twisted shoulder.

Other than that, Brown refused to comment on Giant injuries—possibly recalling the 17-9 licking the Giants hung on Cleveland earlier this year.

Haney Signs Pact As Pirate Pilot
PITTSBURGH — Fred Haney, admired by Branch Rickey as a baseball player who "took chances," says he will wait awhile before sizing up the possibilities of the Pittsburgh Pirates he'll manage in 1953.

Haney was a wee bit on the pessimistic side after he signed a one-year pact Thursday. There was considerable speculation that Haney wanted more than a one-year pact. Haney reportedly will receive around $35,000. What worried him most was how to get the Pirates out of the National League cellar.

Saxton Favored To Defeat Perez
NEW YORK — Undeclared Johnny Saxton will be swinging for a quick knockout tonight when he faces Cuba's Raul Perez in Madison Square Garden in a welterweight 10 rounder.

The 22-year-old Brooklyn Negro is a 4 to 1 favorite to win the nationally telecast scrap but just winning his 34th straight scrap won't be enough for Johnny.

30 Will Share In Special Pay By Penney Co.

About 30 members of the local J. C. Penney organization will share in a special year-end payment by the company.

Plans for the local distribution were announced Thursday by George Fuhrman, manager of the firm's store in Cincinnati.

New York offices of the nationwide company said the payment has been authorized for more than 50,000 associates in the company's 1,629 stores, offices and warehouses.

The payment will be an amount equal to two weeks' pay for all full-time associates who have been employed for the full year 1952, and proportionate amounts for extra and part-time associates and those employed less than a year.

All Penney associates will share in the payment except management staff members whose earnings are determined largely by the company's long-standing profit-sharing plan. It will be made Monday at each associate's Dec. 15 rate of pay.

Whipping Post Urged To Aid Law Protection

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The return of the whipping post was listed among measures advocated by a jurist here to protect "the rights of law-abiding people."

Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones said in an address to a civic club yesterday that in the administration of criminal law "we put a greater value on the criminals among us than we do on their victims."

His suggested program to "put the criminal in his place" would include these changes in state law:

1. Let a majority on a jury write a verdict instead of requiring it to be unanimous.
2. Rewrite the laws relating to insanity plea in criminal trials.
3. Set up a whipping post for minor offenses.
4. Let women serve on juries (they are barred in Alabama).
